Melanie's Thoughts

Melanie Wait
Principal

Holiday Happenings

Over the holidays a number of exciting works have taken place. As part of Premier's Sporting Challenge Grant our basketball courts have been resurfaced. Asphalt was laid and new posts were erected to turn our courts into a multipurpose area catering for both basketball and netball. Our students are extremely excited about the new courts.

We also had a Connected Classroom installed into the new library. The Connected Classroom unit consists of an Interactive Whiteboard and a Video Conferencing Unit. This means our school now has three Video Conferencing Units.

Staff Changes

At the end of Week 4 (August 12th), Mr Jade Parker, will be taking leave for the rest of the 2011 school year to travel overseas. To replace him, Miss Leeta Rutherford, Miss Jacqui Forster and Mrs Belinda McKindlay will be taking his classes. Mr Ben McGrath from Balranald will be teaching Year 9/10

D & T. Mr Parker will return to us for the 2012 school year. We wish him all the best on his travels.

Sporting Star

This week Darcy Spinks has been representing the school and our state at the National AFL Under 16 Boys Carnival. I am sure he has played extremely well and has learnt a lot from this experience. Well done Darcy.

SASS Super Stars

Next week is SASS (School Administration and Support Staff) Recognition Week. We would like to take the time to thank our wonderful support staff for the great job they do for our school. Without them it would be much more difficult to provide the experiences we do for our students.

Safeways Earn and Learn

This year Safeways are running a reward program. Points will be located on your docket. Please drop your dockets at the Front Office and the points will be registered. The points from this program are used to purchase teaching and learning aids, stationary etc.

McCain Veggie Patch

We have also registered for the McCain Veggie Patch program. This program helps schools purchase equipment to support the growing of vegetables and supporting agriculture in the school. Please collect any McCain vegetable barcodes and forward them to the school Front Office. Some of the eligible items include: any products from McCain Purely Potato, Regular Vegetables, Sweet Baby Vegetables and Mixed Vegetable range including Winter Vegetables, Stir Fry Supreme and other McCain Vegetable Mixes.

Coles School Sports

The Coles Sports for Schools are once again running their voucher promotion to help raise money to purchase sporting equipment. Last year this promotion was a great success for our school, allowing us to purchase additional sporting equipment. This promotion begins on 11th September 2011.

Reports / Portfolios

Hopefully over the course of the school holidays you parents/families had the opportunity to read over their child's portfolio. This portfolio provides a sample of work that was covered in Term Two. If you haven't done so already could portfolio's be returned to classrooms so they can start being filled up again with work from Term Three.

Semester One reports also went home late last term. If you have any questions or concerns, please take the time to make an appointment with your child's teacher to discuss this.

Illustrator

Today students in Year 4/5/6 had the opportunity to work with illustrator Kevin Burgemeestre. Kevin has illustrated such books as 'Uncle Eddie and the Hippos', 'Uncle Eddie and the Croc' and 'B for Those students involved have received a note with their events listed and a brief itinerary of the day. If any child is unable to attend the day can they please see me so a reserve can be organised.

Parent Information

Last term I wrote about blogED and that it would be used by students beginning this term. I provided a list of points which would help to inform parents about blogED. Last week students in Year 4/5/6 began using blogED by responding to questions relating to work being studied in class. Students have thoroughly enjoyed this opportunity. I thought this edition I would provide more information in terms of a glossary for parents on blogED terminology.

Blog

A blog (an abbreviation of weblog) is a personal website, organised like a diary or journal, which shows the author's most recent additions first. It enables the author to write regular entries expressing their view of events. Depending on the settings chosen by the blog creator, the readers (audience) of the blog may be able to 'post' to a blog, or 'comment' on a post. For some blog types in blogED moderation is mandatory.

A Post

Is a single entry written and published in a blog. A blog is composed of multiple posts. A post can contain written text, copyright compliant pictures or images, and other media such as video and audio files. Posts are listed in a blog in chronological order with the most recent posts appearing first - at the top of the blog. To be able to create a post the owner of the blog must give you permission.

Comments

Are made about blog posts and allow the readers or audience of the blog to express their views about the subject being considered. An interesting post can generate a large number of comments. Comments appear below a blog post. When setting up a blog, the blog owner determines who will be able to view the blog, and if they will be able to make comments.

Owner

Only teachers can create and own a blog. Within certain parameters teachers can create blogs for student authors.

Member

A blog member is a person who is given specific permission by the blog owner to view and add comments about posts. Members will see a link to the blog in their dashboard.

Author

A blog author is a member who is given permission by the blog owner to create posts for the blog, and to add comments to a post.

Moderation

Gives the blog owner the option to review posts and comments before they are published to the blog. This is done to ensure the posts and comments are appropriate and do not contain material that could be viewed as offensive or incorrect to blog readers. Moderation provides an extra layer of security and scrutiny to any post or comment. For some blog types in blogED moderation is mandatory.

Moderator

The moderator is the person in charge of moderating blog posts and comments. The moderator decides on whether material is appropriate for the blog audience, and has final say on whether a blog post or comment is published. In blogED the owner of the blog (teacher) is always the moderator.

Secondary News

Melanie Hunt (Head Teacher)*Class Changes

The following class changes have been made to cover Mr Jade Parker's classes while he is on LWOP. These changes have been made in the best interests of the students and will ensure students achieve the best possible learning outcomes

- Jacqui Forster (7/8/9 HSIE),
- Leeta Rutherford (7/8 LOTE and Music, 9 Science, 9/10 D & T Theory).
- Belinda McKindlay (7/8 TAS, 9 Maths),
- Dan Wait (9/10 Ag),
- Mel Hunt & Susan Woods (10 HSIE).
- Mr Ben McGrath, TAS teacher from Balaranald Central School will be taking the 9/10 D & T practical sessions.

Mathletics

A reminder to all secondary students that Mathletics is still available 24/7 as a learning tool. You can use this site to practise the skills you may experience difficulties with in class.

Young Artists

Our secondary students are again fortunate enough to have Vicky Lowry in attendance this term. Students in 7/8 will experience the wonder in their normal class times and senior students will have extra time with Vicky later in the day. We are very lucky to have Vicky with us.

Dramatic Pause

Watch out theatres – here they come! Students in Year 7/8 have had an intensive workshop with Drama coach Lou Endicott this week. The aim of this project is to build the confidence of students in this class and teach them some valuable dramatic skills. We hope to see the evidence of this workshop in this year's performance night.

Year 7 & 8 Science

Students have just finished their unit on planet earth. This term they are starting to study the different body systems and their role in the maintenance of health. Students will look at the digestive, respiratory and excretory systems. Students will also have their Students Research Project this semester where they will have to complete a science investigation that analyses a topical issue, or an issue they are interested in finding the answer to.

Year 9 Science

Students are currently learning about reproduction and disease. They will have an assessment item to complete on disease which will be due in Week 4. This is available on the website if parents are interested in having a look.

Year 10 Science

Year 10 are studying genetics and investigating how the inherited characteristics from their parents. All students achieved sound results in their topic test completed at the end of last term. It would be great for all parents to have a look at these items to see how their students are progressing.

Biology

The senior class are finalising their studies in preparation for the Trial Exams. The final unit of study is the 'Human Story' and the history associated with our evolution. Students should be regularly revising their work to ensure they are prepared for the trial exams. These contribute 25% towards their final school assessment.

Senior Agriculture

With climate change being the latest craze, students are looking at the natural variation in the climate. As they progress through the unit students will learn about factors contributing to climate change and how research are assisting farmers to ensure they have viable cropping choice for the future. These students also have trial examinations in the coming weeks.

Primary Industries

This term students are looking at completing a first aid course, work experience and units associated with plant production. I look forward to seeing their skills develop and prepare students for the workforce.

All Science classes are required to complete a Science Research Project this semester. They will pose a question and conduct their own experiment to test it. These assessment items will be due in the coming weeks. Students will have access to a blog through their DEC portal to assist them with their assessment item. If parents wish to access these items they can ask students to view the blog at home. I look forward to seeing some excellent research projects.

Finally the school farm still has fruit available. If anyone would like some fresh fruit just send an order in with your child and I will pick the fruit that day. It will then be sent home with students

The cost of the fruit is:

- 15 mandarins for $1
- 10 oranges for $1
- 5 lemons for $1
- 10 grapefruit for $1

I look forward to a wonderful semester.
Daniel Wait

Drama

This week we were lucky enough to have Lou Endicott in the school. Lou is an actor and teaching artist who also facilitates drama workshops in schools designed to uncover different drama styles and techniques as well as to ignite inspiration and imagination in young people. Lou's visit has been funded by South West Arts. Lou worked with all students from Kinder to Year 7/8.

Year 7/8 enthralled the class with their skits.

Year 7/8 thoroughly enjoyed their drama exercises.

Year 7/8 TAS Mandatory

Next week Year 7/8 students will be beginning Textiles and Food Tech.

In Textiles Year 7 students will be tie-dyeing their own fabric and creating a techno pair of boxer shorts. Food Technology will have the Year 8 students whipping up a storm, cooking a variety of pastas and sauces with the end result being a creation designed by them.

Visual Art

Year 7/8 is also fortunate to have Artist in Residence Vicky Lowry working with them for 3 weeks on a Monday during their Visual Art lesson. Vicky will also be sharing her expertise and knowledge with Year 6 students and our senior girls.

Culinary Challenge

On Thursday 21st July students from Tooleybuc Central School Hospitality class travelled to Balranald to participate in the Murray River Culinary Challenge. Students were required to complete three dishes, summer vegetable salad, risotto with sweet potato, capsicum and bacon and fresh fruit platter within two hours and fifteen minutes. The first dish was required to be presented one hour five minutes after commencement and 30 minutes later dish two and then final 30 minutes dish three. Students worked individually and competition between individual students was tight. Judges tasted each students dishes marked them on their organisation, OH & S and hygiene, usage of ingredients, workflow and bench work, finished product and presentation. At the conclusion of the day two students with the highest scores were awarded Gold Certificates and chosen to represent their school at the next level in a team event held at Finley. Mere Bakata from Tooleybuc and Ashleigh Nelson from Balranald were the successful winners. Well done!

Several students were awarded silver certificates and the remainder achieved bronze certificates. All students had to have a handwritten work plan. The skills students gain from their participation in such an event is enormous in addition to gaining food preparation skills they gain organisational and concentration skills. These will all enhance their work readiness. Well done to all Tooleybuc students involved and a big thank you to Greg Jordan from the Tooleybuc Sporting Club for acting as one of the judges on the day.

Mere Bakata correctly segments an orange.

Brandon Monk and Naomi Batty prepare their dishes.

Tooleybuc Central School
urges Tooleybuc
residents to help build its
McCAIN School Veggie Patch

21/7/2011: Tooleybuc Central School announced today it has joined schools around the country and registered for the McCAIN School Veggie Patches program. The school is now urging local community members, businesses and families to help build the Veggie Patch by collecting and sending the school barcodes from McCAIN vegetable packs to redeem for points.

“We’ve heard great things about the program from last year so we’re thrilled to be involved in 2011,” Ms Melanie Wait, Principal said.

“This is a great opportunity for our students to be involved in an educational program that will teach our children about the benefits of healthy eating in a fun, outdoor environment. I hope our community will get behind us to help us build our Veggie Patch as quickly as possible!” concludes Ms Wait

McCAIN Foods launched the School Veggie Patches program in 2010 to help primary school children learn about the origin and benefits of vegetables, by planting and growing vegetables in their own schoolyard. Over 2,700 schools around Australia and New Zealand registered in the program in the first year.

Director of Food and Nutrition Australia and Accredited Practising Dietitian Sharon Natoli, explains: “Children are more likely to eat vegetables if they are involved in the process of growing, harvesting, cooking, and even buying vegetables.”

In its first year, McCAIN School Veggie Patches was nominated by parents for The Parents Jury Fame Award for Parents' Choice 2010 – an award that recognises campaigns promoting healthy eating to children. Nicki Anderson, Marketing Director, McCAIN Foods Australia and New Zealand said of the program:

“McCAIN Foods is passionate about playing a role in food education for children, and we are proud to be continuing the McCAIN School Veggie Patches program to equip students with invaluable knowledge and hands-on experience that will continue to grow with them well into the future.”

To help build Tooleybuc Central School’s Veggie Patch, simply collect barcodes from your McCAIN vegetable packs and either place them in the collection box at the school Front Office or post them to the school at Murray Street, Tooleybuc.

Every barcode earns McCAIN Veggie Patch points for Tooleybuc Central School which can then be redeemed for gardening tools and seeds.

Murrumbidgee Local Health Network is warning people to take extra hygiene precautions to avoid gastroenteritis.

Infection Control Consultant Sharon Maher said gastroenteritis outbreaks tend to rise during winter and early spring.

“A number of different bugs can cause gastroenteritis but in winter it is often caused by a highly infectious viral strain which can affect millions of Australians,” Ms Maher said.

The norovirus causes symptoms including nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, fever, abdominal pain, headache and muscle aches.

“Viral gastroenteritis is highly infectious and is most often spread through direct contact with an infected person.

“The norovirus can also spread through indirect contact with contaminated surfaces, even through food prepared by a person who has the infection,” she said.

Ms Maher said people who may have gastroenteritis should:

- delay visiting family and friends who are in hospital or aged care homes
- not prepare food for others until 48 hours after the symptoms have gone
- drink plenty of fluids to maintain hydration
- continue to wash their hands with soapy water before handling food and after using the toilet
- children should not attend school or childcare until 48 hours after the symptoms have gone

Symptoms of norovirus gastro can take a day or two to develop and usually last one to three days. The vomiting, diarrhoea, fever and loss of appetite can lead to dehydration, which needs immediate medical treatment.
