Melanie's Thoughts

Melanie Wait
Principal

As Term Two draws to a close it is time to reflect on all the wonderful opportunities that students from Tooleybuc Central School have had to participate in. There have been a vast range of extra curricula activities on offer including authors and illustrators in residence, dramatic activities, sporting opportunities as well as wonderful teaching and learning opportunities. These activities help develop our students into well rounded people and support their social and emotional development. Thank you to all the staff members who have coordinated these events and to the parents who have been involved by either transporting students or attending events etc. I hope you all enjoy a well deserved rest over the break and come back refreshed and ready to continue our learning journey.

Men's Health Day

Two weeks ago we were fortunate enough to hold a Special Person's day in support of Men's Health Week. This day was extremely well supported and we had a fantastic showing of parents. I was incredibly moved by the support provided to our students by the 'special men' in their lives. The day involved a lot of laughs and hopefully a few deep and meaningful conversations that built relationships between our young people and our role models.

Three Way Interviews

Next term we will be holding Three Way Interviews again. These are an opportunity for students and parents to share in their child's learning success across the semester and help set goals for their future learning. Teachers are looking to demonstrate student achievements to each parent. As a parent, please don't feel the need to discipline your child in front of teachers about their application or achievement. These are opportunities to have honest conversations between students, parents and teachers and help support students' to develop strategies to achieve their personal best. Interviews will be held on Wednesday 25th July 2012.

To book these interviews please go to:

An enjoyable day was shared with students and male role models at the recent "Men's Health, Special Person Day".

New Bell Times

We are currently investigating a new structure to our day to allow all students to finish the school day at 3.15. This is to eliminate the disruption caused to the secondary school when the early bus students leave class. Currently a number of models are being discussed.

Whole School Assembly

Today we are holding our Whole School Assembly and Tooleybuc's Got Talent final. These events are both opportunities to showcase the talent and the wonderful achievements of our students.

Congratulations to all of those students who participated in Tooleybuc's Got Talent and those who received awards.

Merit Scheme

To reward our students' positive behaviour Tooleybuc Central School runs a strong Merit Scheme. Students are awarded 'Merit Awards' during the school year and an accumulation of these merits equates to levels.

Bronze Level	10 Merits
Silver Level	Bronze plus and extra 20 Merits
Gold Level	Silver plus an extra 30 Merits.

Primary students are given a 'Lucky Dip' at the achievement of each level, secondary students are given a $2.00 voucher to spend at the canteen, then primary and secondary are presented with a certificate at our Whole School Assembly. Those students who achieve Gold Level are invited to attend our End of Year Merit Excursion.

Be fire safe this winter

Winter's chill has arrived and with it our scramble for heaters, electric blankets and open fires. Entertaining is now year round thanks to portable outdoor gas heaters. But with all these conveniences come fire dangers. Statistics reveal that almost half of all home fires are started in the kitchen and 43 per cent of all fire fatalities occur in winter. NSW Fire and Rescue reminds us to do a fire safety audit of our homes this winter, check smoke detectors are working and ensure appliances such as clothes dryers and dishwashers are running efficiently and safely. For more household fact sheets and useful videos on how to protect your home and family from fire go to www.fire.nsw.gov.au/

Primary News

Simon Dunn (Assistant Principal)

It is now officially the end of Term Two and the first half of this year has flown by. As I think back over all of the varied learning opportunities we have enjoyed such as visiting authors, PSSA sporting events at local, district and regional level for different sports, special days such as Men's Health Day, incursions such as science shows and drama workshops and excursions to Melbourne, Deniliquin and Swan Hill just to name a few. I wonder how we have fit all of these activities in and I realise how lucky we are to be involved in a supportive school community where the parents and teachers work together to support the educational needs of the local students. Once again I can not thank the parents enough for your continued support. I also need to say a special thank you to Mrs Hazlett and Mrs Jenvey for the important roles they have played in organising some of these events.

Annie

On Wednesday Mrs Edelsten and I had the pleasure of accompanying students from years 4 to 10 to Melbourne for the day to see the show Annie. It was a fantastic day that provided students with the opportunity to see a quality production. We were even asked to leave the theatre at the end of the show for trying to take a quick group photo inside the auditorium.

The day would not have been able to run without the support of the parent helpers so thank you to Mrs McNab, Mrs Main, Mrs Gleeson, Mrs Andrews and Mrs Hickey for giving up their time to assist on the day.

Students all enjoyed the performance of Annie

Primary Assembly

Last Friday we held our Term Two Primary Assembly. Once again it was fantastic to see so many parents and relatives there supporting our children. Thank you to the Young Leaders who did a wonderful job of conducting the assembly and congratulations to the award winners and the students of 4/5/6 for entertaining us with your wonderful performances.

Jump Rope for Heart

After the assembly all of the Primary School students participated in the annual Jump Rope for Heart day. The afternoon was a huge success with everyone becoming involved (including all of the teachers and some of the parents and grandparents that came as spectators). The Year 6 students did a wonderful job at organising and running their stations to ensure that the activities could be enjoyed by all.

Year 4/5/6

This has been a very busy term for the students in 4/5/6 and the last few weeks have proven what a creative group of students they are. The students selected the type of performance they wanted to be involved in for the Primary Assembly and then set about writing scripts, organising props and costumes as well as choreographing dance routines. The amount of work put into these performances was obvious as all of the students performances came together in the end.

We have continued to explore different strategies that are part of the Focus On Reading program. The 'Super Six' develop students' comprehension skills by giving them a repertoire of strategies that they can use to improve their understanding of any text. This term we have mainly focused on the strategies of Summarising and Visualising by looking at activities such as Key Word Strategy and Sketch to Stretch.

Ethan and Murray learn their scripts

I hope that everyone has a safe and enjoyable holiday and I look forward to seeing smiling faces when school starts in Term 3.

Secondary News

Bruce Nield (Head Teacher Teaching and Learning)

I would like to begin by congratulating many students who are learning well with the How 2 Learn Strategy. From observations in my own classroom and comments from other staff, we are seeing a substantial increase in output and engagement with their learning. Students need to return with this great attitude next term.

Secondary Learning Strategy

Speaking of next term, the secondary part of the school (working with Focus on Reading in the primary years) will be focusing on a series of comprehension strategies across all classes next term. These include Making Connections, Visualising, Questioning, Summarising, Predicting and Monitoring. One set of strategies will be focused on for one fortnight at a time across all subjects, enabling students to develop a specific set of skills and strategies in comprehension that they can apply in and outside of school for their learning.

SRC and Volunteering

It would be remiss of me to end this term without mentioning the great work students have been doing to serve their school community. From the Year 11 carwash to Auskick to the Superheroes day (with hotdogs!) our students continue to demonstrate their good citizenship and care for each other.

Science

David Giles (Science Years 8, 9 & 10)

In Science Years 8, 9 and 10 are currently studying the Human Body. Year 8 are researching medical technologies that are keeping us all living longer. Year 9/10 are finishing learning about the nervous and endocrine systems. They are currently researching diseases of these systems.

David McCarron (Science Year 7)

Year 7 have been learning about separating mixtures and carrying out lots of experiments. We made our own waste water and tried to filter it back to clean water, with limited success. We had planned to visit the water treatment plant, but this has been postponed until next term.

Career News

Mrs Morton (Careers Adviser)

Year Ten students have been given the paperwork for Work Experience. This needs to be completed over the holidays which requires them ringing their employer and arranging a suitable time to visit them. In addition all Year Ten students should be carefully considering their options for their second week of Work Experience, ideas are due to Mrs Morton first week back. Year Ten students should now have their resume complete and they should be working on their application letter for the Mock Interviews. The Mock Interviews will be held Thursday Week 3 of Term 3. It may be an ideal time during the holidays to organise clothes for the day and for work experience.

Year Eleven students should be considering their second week of Work Placement choices. They will be submitted by Week 2, Term 2 online to MICEEP.

Richard working on ground maintenance at the school during his work placement.

Upcoming Career Events

- Wednesday, Week 1, Term 3, Grow Your Career Day for all Year Nine and Ten students.
- August 22nd and 23rd Army Trade Day and visits to Charles Sturt University and Latrobe University.

Ear infections and otitis media

Ear infections are very common in small children. The two types of ear infections commonly seen in children are middle ear infection (otitis media) and outer ear infections (otitis externa). Most ear infections involve the middle ear. Babies and young children get more middle-ear infections than older children because the tubes (called the Eustachian tubes) that connect the middle ear to the throat are smaller. This makes it easier for germs to reach the middle ear from the nose and throat during head colds, which are very common in small children. Infection of the outer ear (or auditory canal,) or Otitis Externa are bacterial infections usually due to excess moisture in the canal, eg. after swimming, or damage to the canal after use of cotton buds or scratching.

Signs and symptoms

Babies and toddlers may have intense ear pain with both types of ear infections.

- Because of the pain, toddlers can become extremely irritable, and hard to deal with.
- They may pull at their ears or shove their finger inside their ear.
- Children may also vomit, lose interest in eating, seem to have no energy and have trouble hearing.

Middle ear infections

- Sometimes pus will break through the eardrum so you see a thick yellow discharge from the ear. When this happens children often feel better as the painful pressure from the fluid inside the ear is gone. The burst eardrum usually heals without treatment.
- Middle ear infections often happen with a cold (sometimes called an upper respiratory tract infection or URTI), with a runny nose and sore throat.
- Usually they have a fever - sometimes a fever is the only symptom.

Outer ear infections

- There can be discharge from the ear, or the child might complain of a feeling of fullness in their ear.
- The ear may be red and swollen.
- The ear may be painful to touch and move.
- If a fever develops, or the redness spreads beyond the ear, please see your doctor again.

Care at home

If your child is in pain give them a pain-reliever such as Paracetamol or Painstop.

Middle ear infections

- As with head colds, antibiotics do not usually help ear infections. Many middle ear infections in children clear up on their own, without antibiotics, over a few days.
- Some children still do need a short course of antibiotics, especially if the child is very young or very unwell. So, if you think your child may have an ear infection see your doctor. If the doctor prescribes antibiotics, ask if they are really necessary. Antibiotics can cause side-effects.

Outer ear infections

- These infections always need treatment with antibiotic drops.
- The doctor may insert an ear wick, this is the size of a matchstick, and helps keep the ear canal open so antibiotic drops can be inserted.
- When applying ear drops to your child, have them lie down with the affected ear facing the ceiling. Put the drops in and keep your child in the same position for a few minutes, to allow the drops to be absorbed. Otherwise place a cotton wool ball in the ear to keep the drops in the canal.
- Avoid swimming for one week to allow the infection to heal.

After an ear infection, children may have some fluid in the middle ear for a few weeks. You may notice your child has some trouble hearing during this time. The fluid will usually clear up over a couple of months. If your child continues to be irritable or does not seem to be hearing well, see your doctor.

Key points to remember

- It can be very common for small children to have several ear infections in one year.

- Antibiotics are not always needed for middle ear infections.
- There may be some fluid in the middle ear for several weeks or months after the infection. This is normal, and usually clears up on its own.
- Most children outgrow middle ear problems and have perfect and undamaged ears and normal hearing.
- Outer ear infections are easily treated with antibiotic ear drops.

Doctor Service For Tooleybuc

Wakool Shire has reached a new milestone in the provision of medical services to Tooleybuc and surrounds.

After several months of negotiations, a medical partnership with TriStar Medical Services will see the re-establishment of a general part-time medical practice in Tooleybuc. Doctor Yasar Abbas will commence on Wednesday 27th June 2012 and appointments can be made by ringing the TriStar clinic at Swan Hill on 03 5032 2133.

The new arrangement will provide Tooleybuc and district residents with access to a doctor one day a week initially, and then two days a week as appointment bookings require.

Discussions regarding an outreach medical service commenced soon after the previous doctor left the practice late last year.

“This is an exciting initiative for Tooleybuc and is a great step forward for medical services in the Council's north western area” said Wakool Shire Mayor Cr Andrew Douglas.

“The arrangement is well aligned with Council's aim to continue to advocate for the improved retention of general practitioners in the area and improved access to health care and specialist services overall,” he said.

Under the arrangement, Council will provide TriStar Medical Group with the doctors' consulting room and reception area located at Suite 2 47 Cadell St Tooleybuc - free of charge.

TriStar will provide the doctor and receptionist.

Council said the outreach medical service also fits very well with the Wakool Shire Home and Community Care Multi Services Outlet, which operates from the same premises.

It is also adjacent to the Tooleybuc Community Health clinic.

“People no longer need to travel to surrounding towns to obtain general medical treatment.”

“This new arrangement further demonstrates the capacity of our council and community to maintain quality medical services in one central location for the benefit of local residents,” Cr Douglas said

Dietetics, Swan Hill District Health

A healthy attitude to food and the division of responsibility.

Developing healthy habits in your children is not simply a matter of them choosing healthy 'everyday' foods and being active every day. It is also important for your child to develop a healthy attitude to food.

You can help your children to develop a healthy attitude towards food by choosing the language you use to describe foods carefully. Avoid labelling foods as 'good' and 'bad' (or using the words such as 'junk foods' in this way). This can lead children to feel they are a good or bad person depending on what they eat. Instead refer to foods as 'everyday' foods and 'sometimes' foods. Sometimes foods can be enjoyed, but just occasionally or as treats.

Try not to give foods emotional meanings or soothe hurts with food (for example 'a lolly will make your sore knee better'). Avoid using food as a reward and comfort or nurture your child in other ways: listen and dance to their favourite CD, read a story or just give them a cuddle.

Encourage your child to listen and respond to their own body's hunger and fullness cues. Encourage them to eat slowly and notice how their body is filling up, and stop when they feel satisfied (not full). Remember the division of responsibility: parents provide (good quality food), children decide (how much they want to eat).
